

Assoz.-Prof. Mag. Dr. Farsam Salimi

1980	Born in Tehran/Iran
1999	Final examination, BG Perau, Villach, Austria
2005	Master of Law, University of Vienna
2005-2006	Trainee lawyer in Vienna
2006-2009	University of Vienna, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, Junior Research Assistant
2008-2009	Scientific Assistant at the Supreme Court
2009	Doctorate of Law, University of Vienna
2009-2011	Ministry of the Interior, Legislation employee in the legal section and research assistant of the legal protection commissioner
Since 2/2011	University of Vienna, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology; Senior Research Assistant staff member of ALES – Austrian Center for Law Enforcement Sciences at the Faculty of Law, University of Vienna
Since 4/2011	University of Vienna, ALES Austrian Center for Law Enforcement Sciences, Researcher
Since 9/2014	Tenure Track, University of Vienna, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology
Since 5/2015	Assistant Professor, University of Vienna, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology

Extensive lecturing at the University of Vienna, the University of Applied Sciences Wiener Neustadt and the Danube University Krems, especially on cyber criminal law and courses on environmental criminal law for the Federal Office of Criminal Investigation, variety of publications, especially in the “Wiener Kommentar zum Strafgesetzbuch” and the “Salzburger Kommentar zum Strafgesetzbuch”.

Research focuses:

- Cyber-Crime
- Data protection
- Competences of the police in criminal law and in security police law
- Environmental Criminal Law
- International Criminal Law
- Offences against property